

Jo Stafford

An alphabetical listing of her studio recordings, including recording dates, matrix numbers and, when known, dates first issued.

Compiled by Jim Marshall, and updated October 2020

I first produced a Jo Stafford discography 'way back in 1995, encouraged by the late Tom Colborn who probably knew more about Jo's career than the lady herself. Tom had already done much of the groundwork and, knowing that I'd acquired a computer - an early Amstrad - suggested that I take over the task.

I was well into my research when the indispensable "In Tune" magazine started publishing its own in-depth listing of Jo's huge catalogue of recordings. The work put into that by Brian Henson, Colin Morgan, Robert W. Rice and others was an immeasurable help. My thanks also go to Ken Seavor, John Ridgeway, Lucas Tuinstra, Tim Weston, Jeff Lasbury and Ray Purslow plus, of course Jo Stafford and Paul Weston, all of whom contributed to Tom's original research.

More recently I've had important help from Michel Ruppli, Robert Rice, Richard Weize and Adrian Daff resulting in what I like to think is an almost "complete" alphabetical listing of Jo's commercial recordings, including her work with the Pied Pipers and her alter egos, Cinderella G. Stump and Darlene Edwards! (Apologies if I've forgotten anyone!)

Apart from a handful of never-ever issued Capitol and Columbia tracks, almost all Jo's studio recordings seem to have been reissued on CD and are probably still in print. In fact, the seemingly relentless reissue of Stafford CDs, mainly in the UK, is proof, if proof was needed, of the lady's long-lasting popularity.

Of course, there are still bound to be errors, so if you have any useful information, or if you just want to make a comment, I'd love to hear from you. Please feel free to email me at jimars@globalnet.co.uk

And finally, Jorgen Breeman has produced a fine alternative Jo Stafford discography, listing her studio recordings in date, rather than alphabetical, order. Check it out at: jostafford-discography.com

Jim Marshall - October 2020

Dear Jim,

Paul & I wanted you to know how very pleased we are with the designography.

You really did a superb job — obviously a lot of hard work — and the finished product is something to be extremely proud of —

We both thank you so much.

Sincerely,

Jo Stafford Hutton

ISS

When I look over this comprehensive discography
compiled by Jim Marshall
I have come to realize what a lucky person I was to have worked and recorded music in that particular time frame.

What gorgeous music
I was given to record — written by masters of their craft — what great musicians
I was privileged to work with — including my own favorite Paul Weston — the other artists I had the pleasure of working with — Frank Sinatra, Sy Oliver, Gordon MacRae
Frankie Laine —

I'm very grateful to all of them for enriching my life personally and professionally.

My thanks to Jim Marshall for reminding me of all the above.

Sincerely,
Jo Stafford

NOTES & QUERIES

This is the place for some comments and requests for information, starting with the existence of the two tracks ("Piggy Wiggy Woo" and "Crazy Rhythm") by the original Pied Pipers on either side of a 78rpm on the Varsity label. These were also issued on the Ammor label, number 104 and it's possible that this was released before the Varsity version. If anyone can come up with any more information on these, I'd be pleased to hear from them. The two tracks are currently available on the JSP box-set "Jo Stafford - Her Greatest Hits" (JSP95) (www.jsprecords.com)

Now to Jo's recording of "I Only Have Eyes For You" backed by "St. Louis Blues" which was issued on a promotional 7" 78rpm (and 45rpm) for Snowy Bleach. It isn't anywhere to be found in the Columbia archives and, indeed, it's said that Paul Weston was adamant that Jo didn't record it commercially, but, according to the Jo Stafford Archive, she DID record it specially for the Snowy Bleach TV show and the disc was released on August 13th 1954. However, "St. Louis Blues" did eventually get a Columbia release but it's almost certain that the Snowy Bleach master was used. Both tracks are included on the Jasmine 2-CD set "Love, Mystery and Adventure".

In September 2007, EMI in the UK released "Jo Stafford The Ultimate Capitol Collection" containing four titles never before issued anywhere - "The Last Time I Saw You", "You Wear Love So Well", "Rockin' Chair" and a duet with Gordon MacRae on "When Day Is Done". I'd been invited to select the tracks for this 2-CD set to celebrate Jo's 90th birthday and so I took a wild chance and included the four rare unreleased titles, assuming that they probably wouldn't be available anyway. Imagine my surprise when Capitol in Hollywood managed to find them. My only regret now, of course, is that I didn't select ALL the un-issued tracks. At least it indicates that they probably still have the other unreleased stuff kicking around in their vaults!

The JS archive suggests that, in addition to the Jonathan & Darlene version, Jo also made a "straight" recording of "The Last Time I Saw Paris" sometime in 1959, although this was never issued.

There was to be another Jonathan & Darlene LP on Corinthian - "Jonathan & Darlene Now!" - but only four tracks, "I Am Woman", "Stayin' Alive", "Copacabana" and "Tie A Yellow Ribbon 'Round The Old Oak Tree", were recorded on June 15th 1979. These titles now appear as "bonus tracks" on the 2011 Corinthian CD reissue of the LP "Darlene Remembers Duke (Sometimes), Jonathan Plays Fats (Almost)" now, for some strange reason, re-titled as "Jonathan Plays Fats (Almost), Darlene Remembers Duke (Sometimes)".

Also in 2011, Acrobat Records released a CD containing the two original Columbia Jonathan & Darlene albums.

On February 8th 1963, Jo recorded "For You" with orchestra conducted by Nelson Riddle. This was apparently intended for the Reprise LP "Getting Sentimental Over Tommy Dorsey", but never made the final release. Pity that it wasn't reinstated for the 2002 Collectables CD reissue.

The JS archive somewhat surprisingly suggests that Jo recorded "The Ruby And The Pearl" on April 29th 1955, but if this is correct, it certainly wasn't ever released. Frankie Laine's version of the same song came out three years earlier, having been recorded on July 18th 1952. We do know that Jo was in the studio on April 29th 1955 recording tracks for the "Happy Holiday" LP. Any thoughts on this?

"Mrs. Wiggs Of The Cabbage Patch", originally recorded for Capitol by Jo and Johnny Mercer on December 13th 1944, finally saw the light of day on the 2007 3-CD set "Mosaic Select: Johnny Mercer" (www.mosaicrecords.com)

There's some discussion regarding Jo's recording of "O Come, O Come Emmanuel" which first appeared on the Vocalion LP "Happy Holidays". The rest of the titles on this LP are previously released Columbia masters, but it's been suggested that the "Emmanuel" track could be an original Corinthian recording. Any ideas?

In 2009 DRG released two Stafford collections, "Autumn In New York & Other Classics" and "The Capitol Rarities 1943-1950". For some reason each contained "Tell Me Why" (credited to the wrong writers) and each also contained "Gee, It's Good Hold You" and, although the sleeve notes imply that they are different versions of the latter, that's somewhat debatable.

I've included "Let's Get Together And Swing", a track recorded by Louis Prima with the Stafford Sisters, Christine, Pauline & Jo, on May 17th 1936. Some doubt was cast as to whether Jo was, in fact, present as she had not yet graduated from high school when it was recorded. It's suggested that the third Stafford "Sister" was a friend, Joan Schaefer, who, it appears, was an original member of the trio. However, it's been reported that Jo confirmed that she WAS on the track.

Recently discovered: A 45rpm single issued in the 1950s by the Gregorian Institute Of America and aimed at children on which Jo narrates the story of the Confirmation. (See below) This is part of a six disc series. Not sure whether Jo appears on the remaining five discs. The Gregorian Institute has no trace in their archives. Does anyone have more information on this? Jo doesn't sing on this record.

In recent times, musical extracts from some of Jo's many radio appearances have begun to be released on CD, featuring, in the main, titles which she did not record commercially. Perhaps I'll find time and space to include these in the future, or, hopefully, someone out there would be willing to compile a list. Any offers?

I'm still trying to discover the recording date and matrix number of "Wouldn't It Be Lovely" which was originally only issued in the UK, on the Philips label. It doesn't seem to appear in any listings of Columbia studio recording sessions. Any help on this would be greatly appreciated.

Finally, the UK based company "Talking Pictures TV" have secured the right to show selected vintage recordings of ATV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium". Whether Jo's appearance on that show will be included is not known, but I have contacted them suggesting that Jo's own 1960 series, recorded in London, also for ATV, would be most welcome. Watch this space!
